Albert Lazare at the opening of Mrs Andrée de Groot's painting exhibition.

Mrs. de Groot asked herself that her last painting of Blessed Kateri Tekakwitha be placed at the heart of the exhibition. She knows too well how Blessed Kateri worked for the promotion of women amongst her own people, liberating them from the hindrances and traditional set forms imposed by men, even though the Iroquois claimed to be a matriarchal society. Kateri Center wishes to congratulate Mrs. de Groot and thank her for her continued collaboration to the Cause.
